

CPUC decides you can keep your old land line

Daniel Mintz
MAD RIVER UNION
HUMBOLDT — The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) has rejected AT&T's bid to drop landline communication service.

At its June 20 meeting, the CPUC voted to reject AT&T's request, heeding demands of those who said loss of landline service would leave them in the lurch during emergencies when state-of-the-art technology is iffy.

A landline shutdown would have affected the local area from Southern Humboldt to greater Trinidad. But there wasn't much suspense leading up to the meeting.

The CPUC telegraphed its intent on May 10, when it released a statement saying AT&T "did not meet the requirements for COLR (Carrier of Last Resort) withdrawal" and "failed to demonstrate the availability of replacement providers."

In its request application, the company says the landline requirement exclusively forces it to "wastefully operate two duplicative networks" — an "outdated" copper landline system and a "forward looking fiber and wireless broadband network."

Gateway Code courts Planco's final OK

MAD RIVER UNION

ARCATA — Arcata's Planning Commission was set to adopt Resolution No. PC-24-06 at Tuesday night's meeting. The nondescript-sounding resolution enacts the Planco's May 14 Ordinance 1569, completing all procedural steps for the City Council to adopt the Gateway Code.

The code forms the backbone of the Gateway Area Plan, an element of Arcata's General Plan 2045. It is intended to ease development of up to 3,500 mainly mixed-use, multi-family homes within the 138-acre-Gateway Area, including alternative transportation as supported by city policy outlined in the plan.

The resolution notes that the Planco "considered hundreds of hours of deliberations, public comment, and targeted engagements" in crafting the code.

COMMUNITY COLLABORATION On the morning of Juneteenth, work began on a Justice for David Josiah Lawson mural on the north side of Arcata's D Street Neighborhood Center, 1301 D St, and continued through the weekend. Another Rebound Project mural, the mural incorporates designs from the Lawson family and many local artists. The community was invited to participate in the painting in advance of a planned Monday opening ceremony, which aimed to help bring closure for all families of those missing and murdered. Below left, Charmaine Lawson and one of Josiah's instructors, Cal Poly Humboldt Associate Professor of Sociology Michihiro Clark Sugata. All of a sudden there are bears everywhere

Jack Durham
MAD RIVER UNION
HUMBOLDT — A mama bear and her cub journeyed through Eureka, Arcata and Manila over the last two weeks and were roaming around the Samoa Peninsula area as of Friday afternoon, June 21.

It's not unusual for bears to wander into urban areas in Humboldt, but they usually don't stay long, nor create such a splash on social media like these two brown bears. "It's quite a saga," said Peter Tira, an information officer with the Department of Fish & Wildlife (DFW).

The bears first came to the attention of the DFW on Monday, June 10 when they had to be extricated from a tree in front of the Pierson Building Center on Broadway in Eureka.

"These were bears not causing any problems," Tira said. However, they were trapped in an area

FENCE SHMENCE Manila resident Sandy Savage captured these photos of a bear and its cub going about their day near Park Avenue in Manila. PHOTOS BY SANDY SAVAGE with heavy traffic and a lot of people. For their safety, they were removed.

The DFW, with the assistance of Humboldt Bay Fire, captured the cub and tranquilized the mother. DFW put a tracking collar on the mama bear. Her and her cub were relocated to "wild habitat" off State Route 299 about 30 miles from Eureka.

The bears then wandered down the Mad River watershed, crossed Route 299 near Blue Lake and, on Saturday, June 15, were spotted walking along G Street in Downtown Arcata. On social media, people posted photos of the mama bear near Pho Hoang, a restaurant in the 1300 block of G Street.

By Monday, June 17, the bears were in Manila, where Ron Settles took photos of them in his backyard on Lupin Street west of Route 255. The bears kept heading south and were later spotted in the Samoa Dunes Recreation Area.

On Tuesday, June 18, a Manila resident collided with the mama bear while driving on Route 255. The bear survived.

NHUHD/AHS welcomes Principal Kristin Ferderber

Note: The following is a letter to the Arcata High School community from Superintendent Roger Macdonald introducing newly hired Arcata High School Principal Kristin Ferderber –Ed.

June 21, 2024
Good afternoon Arcata High School Community,

Please join me in welcoming Kristin Ferderber as the Arcata High School Principal effective July 1, 2024. Ms. Ferderber has made Humboldt County a regular family vacation spot for years and is excited to make it her home.

I want to thank the screening and interview committee that helped make this important decision. Our team was made up of fourteen faculty, staff and administrators and one very involved parent. All made important contributions along the way and were in consensus in recommending Ms. Ferderber.

Ms. Ferderber stood out with her confidence, personality and experience. She was able to answer all of our questions with examples of how she has led and taught in the past.

Her references all shared that she displayed the same "can do" attitude that we saw in her two interviews and confirmed that she does have the varied and exceptional skills that we witnessed.

Ms. Ferderber has just completed the school year as a middle school principal in Salinas. She has also served as a high school Dean of Students and taught high school English, ELD, Journalism and Leadership.

As you might expect, she also took on leadership roles such as department chair and WASC coordinator.

Ms. Ferderber was able to join our admin team earlier this week for some of our professional development and was able to meet some Arcata High staff as well.

I will work with her on a transition to our District, which will include extensive onboarding over the summer. Ms. Ferderber is looking forward to engaging with our community and we will have events planned starting in August for you to meet, greet and get to know her.

I am grateful for the feedback and encouragement that I have received from so many of you and am impressed with all of the work being done to end the year on a positive note across the District as we prepare for the coming school year.

Wishing you all the very best over the summer holiday.

Roger Macdonald
Superintendent
Northern Humboldt Union High School District

Probationer faces arrest, charges after admitting Pride flag heist from EPD

EUREKA POLICE DEPT.
EUREKA – On Friday, June 14 at approximately 11:40 p.m., the Pride flag, that had been flying on the flag pole at the Humboldt County Courthouse in honor of Pride month, was stolen. The theft was reported to the Eureka Police Department on Tuesday, June 18 and assigned to our Criminal Investigations Unit to investigate.

The investigation revealed the suspect took the flag from the flagpole and placed it in his vehicle prior to leaving the scene. This criminal act was captured on surveillance cameras located at the courthouse.

With the assistance of the Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office Criminal Investigators and their FLOCK camera system, the suspect vehicle was identified and a picture provided to our agency. Utilizing this information, a person of interest was identified.

On Wednesday, June 19, EPD detectives and personnel responded to the suspect’s residence and conducted a probation search per their probation status. The stolen flag was not located during the search.

The suspect was located a short time later at a different location and interviewed. During the interview the suspect admitted to stealing the flag.

However, the suspect was not in possession of the flag and the flag’s current location is unknown.

An EPD detective is authoring a warrant for the suspect’s arrest for theft and probation violation. We are dedicated to conducting thorough investigations, including those related to hate crimes that can significantly impact our community.

According to California law, a hate crime must involve the use of force, threats or the damaging, destroying or defacing of property. In this specific investigation, with the evidence that we have at this time, these elements were not present.

If additional evidence is located or presented, it will be evaluated and used to charge additional offenses. The case will be forwarded to the District Attorney’s Office for further review and issuance of a warrant for the suspect’s arrest.

EPD Chief Brian Stephens states, “It’s absolutely unacceptable for anyone to steal the pride flag or any symbol that represents inclusivity and equality. Such actions are not only disrespectful but also hurtful to those who identify with a particular group or in the incident the LGBTQ+ community. Pride flags and symbols are important expressions of identity and solidarity, and everyone should be able to display them without fear of theft or damage. There is no place in our community or our society for hate and disrespect to one another.”

Volunteers needed for Humb Civil Grand Jury

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT
HUMBOLDT – The Superior Court has received some applications since April, but is still short of Humboldt County Civil Grand Jury applicants. Your public service is needed and will be greatly appreciated!!

The Humboldt Superior Court empanels 19 citizens to act as an independent body of the judicial system each fiscal year (term: July 1 to June 30). The court also encourages citizens to apply and be considered to serve as alternates if and when vacancies occur during the term of service.

The court accepts applications from citizens representing a broad cross-section of the Humboldt County community. The Civil Grand Jury is currently meeting in-person one day a week and via Zoom one day a week (their weekly meeting schedule and time commitment may vary from 10 to 30 hours).

The primary work of the civil grand jury is to investigate and review citizen complaints concerning the operations of city and county government as well as other tax supported and non-profit agencies and districts. Based on these reviews, the grand jury publishes its findings and reports recommending constructive actions to improve the quality and effectiveness of our local government. The civil grand jury does not review or consider criminal indictments.

Haas – a toy-tosser at play, a snuggler at home

There’s a fun event coming up this weekend and we hope to see you there! Lost Coast Communications is putting on “Carole’s Critters” in memory of Carole Ann Morgal, the program director of KWPT – The Point.

Carole Ann, an amazing DJ and animal lover, spearheaded a food and fund drive each year that benefitted Redwood pals and other local rescue organizations.

Carole’s Critters will be an afternoon of fun at the Blue Lake Casino on Saturday, June 29 from noon to 4 p.m. You can expect pets available for adoption, food trucks, a piggy kissing booth, beer, live music with Banjo Makes 3, a 50/50 raffle and a pet costume contest!

Redwood Pals Rescue will be there with dogs from the Humboldt County Animal Shelter. You can expect to see the charming Cosmo (if he isn’t adopted this week) as well as some of the other dogs recently featured here and some new faces as well.

Stop by and talk to the volunteers handling the pups for more information about the volunteering experience. Entrance to the event is $10 or a pet food donation. (The organizers note to please bring cash as they are unable to take cards or checks.)

We may even have an appearance by Sparky the Kinetic Foster Dog! He’ll be wearing the “Adopt Me” vest that matches our available pups. Looking forward to seeing you there.

One cute boy that will be at the event is our youngster Haas. Haas has been splitting his time between a foster and the shelter for the last few weeks while he recovered from a brief ailment that kept him out of the spotlight. He is all healed and ready to return to the social scene he loves. Haas attended the Mother’s Day crafts fair at the Casino last month and should be as popular at this event as he was at that one!

Haas is great with other dogs and people young and old. The way he tosses his toys in the air and then pounces on them has been entertaining to everyone who meets him. He has had a great time with his foster and she Haas is just under a year old, neutered, vaccinated, microchipped and negative for heartworm. He is a slender 35 pounds with a black and brindle coat.

If this sounds appealing to you, please contact the shelter at (707) 840-9132 to make an appointment. Haas and all of the adoptable dogs and cats at the Humboldt County Animal Shelter can be seen at 24PetConnect.com.

CPUC | Landlines a lifeline during emergencies

The company also pledged to continue providing landline service to those without alternatives, until they become available.

But the CPUC’s statement referred to a large volume of public comment on the “unreliability” of state-of-the-art alternatives like mobile wireless.

At the meeting, landline users doubted whether they could count on cellular service in emergencies.

One described cellular reception as “extremely spotty” even in the urban area of San Francisco, while landline service quality is “unequaled compared with the drops and the often poor quality of cell phones.”

A resident of Sonoma County said without landline service during the 2019 Kincadee fire, “We would not have known about the evacuation and the extremely serious fire that went through here and took out most of our property.”

Others described themselves as being elderly and/or disabled, with landline service being an essential “lifeline.”

Several speakers said they’re sensitive to electromagnetic frequencies and would get sick if they used cell phones.

There were also demands for the CPUC to formally require AT&T to maintain landline infrastructure.

The CPUC’s vote to reject AT&T’s application was unanimous.

In a related decision, the agency voted to launch a review and update of its COLR rules, which apply to all telecommunications services.

“While the technologies that people rely on change, we want to ensure that our guiding principles remain those of universal service ensuring the availability of affordable, reliable communications services that will function for all Californians,” said Commissioner Darcie Houck.

The CPUC’s action might be superseded by the state legislature.

A new bill, Assembly Bill 2797, would let AT&T and other “last resort” carriers drop services that are shown to lack viable customer bases or are duplicative.

media site, Manila resident Dendra Dengler wrote “Beware of BEARS crossing when driving on 255 at night. Last night the baby bear crossed the highway. As my son slowed down unsure of what it was – the mother ran in front of his car. Luckily for both he had slowed down to approximately 35 mph. He hit the bear, his airbag went off and the bear ran off into the brush. He stopped and called the sheriff who responded. His vehicle is damaged with a lot of mud on the front but no blood. Hopefully the mother wasn’t injured.”

“As of today, they are in Samoa,” Tira said on Friday afternoon, June 21. “They are together.”

“We don’t like them in town at all,” Tira said. “Nothing good happens when bears are in urban areas.”

The bears will scavenge trash cans, eat dog and cat food, chicken feed, downed fruit and anything else they can get their paws on.

They are attracted by the smell of food.

“Black bears have one of the most powerful senses of smell in the animal kingdom,” Tira said, adding that their sense of smell is seven times more powerful than that of a bloodhound.

To keep the bears away, residents should secure their trash can and not leave any animal food outside.

If you see a bear, you can report your sighting to the DFW Redding office at (530) 225-2300.

Crabs return home after challenging road trip

CRABS The Humboldt Crabs take on the Lincoln Potters Friday night at the Arcata Ball Park. MATT FILAR | UNION

Richard LaPreziosa
MAD RIVER UNION
ARCATA – When the Crabs left town last week, with their 10-win, two-loss record, they knew they would have their work cut out for them – a six-day-straight trip to Lincoln and Healdsburg to play the two best teams in their new league, with no day off, in hot weather.
As unbelievable as it sounds to Crabs fans, who have watched their team absolutely smash through competition at the Arcata Ball Park, the Humboldt Crabs lost every game. They return to their home turf with only two more wins than losses, a 10-8 record, which ties them for fourth place in the Pacific Empire League.
It started in Lincoln, where they fell 8-5 to the Potters. Things got a little out of hand in the second inning, and the Potters scored five runs. The Crabs would keep fighting, scoring twice more, but The Potters added three of their own and took the win.

In the fifth inning of Wednesday's game the Crab's would put up four runs, and led the game for a time. But the Potters scored a run in the bottom of the ninth inning, and scored the winning run in walk-off fashion, in the bottom of the eleventh. A heart breaker.
And Thursday night in Lincoln, another loss. And this one might have been the cruelest. The Crabs, while shutting out the Potters all through the game, thanks to a stellar effort by pitcher Cameron Saso, had just added two runs in the ninth inning and needed three more outs against a team who hadn't scored on them all through the game. But the Potters, and a man named Jake Tandy, would score four runs in that inning, three of them on the last play of the game, when Tandy hit a three-run homer. Another walk-off. A bigger heart breaker.

They had come close two nights in a row, but left Lincoln without a road win and headed to Healdsburg.
The Healdsburg Prune Packers haven't lost a game all season. They play in a classic, old-time ball park in Healdsburg. Maybe the only field that could rival the Crab's home park.
The Crabs were able to muster two runs against them on Friday night. But the Prune Packers scored four, and took the win. That was as close as Humboldt would get to them, as they found them selves on the other side of the classic beat downs they, and their fans have gotten so used to. a 13-1 loss on Saturday, and a 9-1 loss on Sunday.

It's not as if they didn't have their chances against Healdsburg. They had eight hits Sunday, and six of the innings ended with Crabs runners in scoring position. They just couldn't get them across the plate.
And now they're back.

This week against the Menlo Legacy for two games before they face Lincoln again this weekend at the Arcata Ball Park. The Potters visit to Humboldt sets off a slew of league games hosted by the Crabs. Lincoln, Medford, Solano. All of these games count toward their league record, as they try to make the playoffs in their first year in the Pacific Empire League, in which they stand in fourth place.
If they can climb in the standings and truly vie for second or even third place, mark your calendars for the weekend of July 16, as Healdsburg, the best team in the league comes to visit.
I'm sure the Crabs will be eying that date as well, as an opportunity for a little pay back.

BEACON OR BOUQUET?
Well, there it is, or was as of last Saturday – the new, not-yet-activated but increasingly rustic-looking Cingular Wireless cell phone tower on Foster Avenue on the Arcata Bottom. Awaiting installation of final segments of faux water tank so it can blend in with the agricultural landscape (though there's nothing similar anywhere in the area), the nearly-complete camouflage cannister resembled an art piece of sorts – a flower pot with a blooming bouquet of antennae sprouting from the top.

'Find Waldo Local in Arcata' then save and win

NORTHTOWN BOOKS

ARCATA — Where's Waldo? In Arcata, of course! Celebrating its twelfth anniversary in July 2024, Find Waldo Local has become a beloved summertime event in communities nationwide.

This year, Candlewick Press and the American Booksellers Association are again teaming up with 310 independent bookstores nationwide, including Northtown Books, for some hide-and-seek fun designed to encourage residents to patronize their local businesses. There is no charge to participate, and the hunt lasts for the entire month of July.

Families love joining the scavenger hunt to find the iconic children's book character, with his red-and-white-striped shirt and black glasses, hidden in 28 local businesses, including Adventure's Edge, Bubbles and Arcata Artisans.

Find Waldo Local is a wonderful way to support the Shop Local movement by increasing foot traffic to a variety of stores. Find Waldo Local is something we look forward to every year.

To join in the fun, people can simply pick up a "Find Waldo Local in Arcata!" stamp card at any of the participating stores or at the Arcata Library. With each miniature Waldo they spot, searchers get their card stamped or signed by the participating shop.

Eagle-eyed hunters can also look for Waldo's special 2024 gold medal hidden in Northtown Books! The first one to find the 2024 gold medal will win it as a prize!

Collecting store stamps or signatures at 20 or more businesses will entitle diligent seekers entry into a grand-prize drawing for Waldo books and other prizes, including many exciting prizes from the participating shops. All participants are welcome to attend the celebration party at Northtown Books on Saturday, Aug. 3 at 3 p.m.

Martin Handford's collections of crowd scenes took the world by storm in the late 1980s, and since then the books have held a cherished place on bookstore shelves, in family libraries, and in classrooms around the world.

More than 80 million Waldo books have been sold worldwide, and they've been translated into over 30 languages.

For more information about hunting for Waldo in Arcata, call Northtown Books at (707) 822-2834. To see a map of participating stores, visit indiebound.org.

CR repatriating Native regalia in compliance with the Native American Graves Protection & Repatriation Act

COLLEGE OF THE REDWOODS

EUREKA — In compliance with the federal Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA) and California's own NAGPRA (CalNAGPRA), pivotal laws that mandate the return of Native American cultural items to their respective tribes and descendants.

College of the Redwoods has initiated the process of repatriating Native baskets and regalia that have been part of the college's permanent collection since they were acquired from local collector and educator Alice Spinas in 1978.

These laws require agencies and institutions that receive public funding to inventory their collections and identify items that are subject to repatriation. These institutions must then consult with affiliated tribes and lineal descendants to determine if they wish to claim any items.

The 212 sacred objects and objects of cultural patrimony, include baskets and regalia, primarily from Yurok, Karuk, Hupa and Wiyot peoples.

The collection had been stored on campus until 2016-17 when CR Art Professor Cynthia Hooper (now retired) applied for and was granted a sabbatical to decontaminate, restore and archive the baskets.

Throughout the project, she worked with Hupa artist and Director of the Goudi'ni Native American Arts Gallery and the Reese Bullen Gallery and at Cal Poly Humboldt Brittany Britton. Brittany's expertise ensured their careful and culturally appropriate handling and preservation.

Together they designed the current installation of basketry on the second floor of the Student Services Building.

CR purchased the collection to promote coursework and research in Native American cultures. The collection has been an important resource for students and the local community to study the art, history, and culture of this region over the past 40 plus years.

All items in the collection have been and will continue to be treated with respect and care by designated staff and faculty leading the repatriation process. CR intends to repatriate all items in the collection.

Currently the management of the collection and the NAGPRA process are part of the new duties of full-time professor of Native American Studies, Dr. Cintra Agee. This involves not only overseeing the procedural requirements, but also ensuring the physical well-being of the collection. She regularly checks on the baskets and other culturally significant items to make sure the climate is correct, and to reassure them they are going home.

RISE, the CR Native American Student Club, has reached out to express interest in assisting in the repatriation process. CR is very enthusiastic for their desired involvement, as it is always looking for ways to include Native students in important institutional initiatives and projects like this one.

"Let me first thank the CR Administration for its unflagging support of the repatriation process," states professor of Native American Studies Cintra Agee. "We are pleased and honored to be able to help return the regalia and basketry to their respective homes. The lengthy process has only just begun. We are grateful to be embarking on the first steps of this important work."

Christmas spirit – really! – at the Senior Center

Thanks to all who stopped by for our Pony Express Rummage, Bake and Open House event on June 1! We enjoyed meeting new friends, reconnecting with old friends, and educating people on how we can help serve our older community members.

We were also proud to host our community partners, Life Plan Humboldt, who share in our endeavor to make life more enjoyable for our seniors. We also wish to welcome our newest hostess, Cheryl Kay Levy, who now assists on Wednesday mornings. Thank you, Cheryl!

We are also pleased to welcome our teenage tech interns back during their seasonal school break, who expertly and patiently work with our participants to teach them more about their computers and handheld devices.

Last summer's intern Rose has returned, along with new intern Rowan, will be available on Thursdays; Trevin will be on hand on Fridays from 9 a.m. to noon to help you get more out of living in the digital world.

After all, kids know more about computers than anyone, right?

Speaking of computers, the DMV is now requiring those wishing to renew their vehicle registration or driver's license to apply online. This can be a roadblock to seniors who haven't the familiarity with technology to do so. We can help!

Come in Thursday or Friday mornings, and let one of our interns help walk you through the process. If an in-person appointment is necessary, we can schedule one for you on the spot.

Christmas in July! Yes, it's a thing!

It was started at a girl's camp in North Carolina in 1933 because Christmas is fun, and they wanted to do it twice per year.

At the center, we love Christmas too, so what the heck! Come by and celebrate Christmas in July with us on Sunday, July 28 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., where we will have Christmas crafts and items for sale, coffee, cookies and generally being silly with our 94-year-old hostess, Pat, playing Mrs. Claus!

On a more somber note, we wish to pass on that our longtime volunteer and friend Patti Stammer has passed on after suffering a stroke. You may be familiar with Patti, as she wrote a monthly column for our center published in the Union prior to COVID. Patti, you will be missed.

As always, we welcome our age 55-plus folks to participate in what we have to offer, and to become involved in our center mission: Sharing and Caring! Selfless service brings us joy, and it will you too.

Have a wonderful July!

SANTA ROSA — For the fourth consecutive year, The PG&E Corporation Foundation (PG&E Foundation) is providing grants to support independent restaurant owners and their staffs through the California Restaurant Foundation's (CRF) Restaurants Care Resilience Fund. And for the first time, commercial caterers are now eligible to apply for the grants.

The PG&E Foundation is contributing $900,000 this year to help build more resilient hometown businesses for the long term. The contribution will fund $5,000 grants to 154 restaurants and commercial caterers in Pacific Gas and Electric Company's (PG&E) service area.

In total, CRF's Restaurants Care Resilience Fund will provide grants across California of nearly $1.4 million to 278 independent restaurants this year. The $5,000 grants can be used to support vital business needs, including technology and equipment upgrades, employee training and retention and unforeseen hardships.

The grants reflect a commitment to strengthen restaurants so that they can continue contributing to local economies and communities.

CRF officials said that this year's decision to open the grants to commercial caterers was based on appeals for support with catering companies noting that they too are a part of the local food scene.

Since 2021, PG&E and the PG&E Foundation have contributed $3.2 million in funding to the CRF's Restaurants Care Resilience Fund providing grants ranging from $3,000 to $5,000.

Last year, the PG&E Foundation funded $5,000 grants to 154 hometown restaurants in Northern and Central California.

"We are proud to continue our partnership with the California Restaurant Foundation to help boost our local eating establishments and our local economies," said Carla Peterman, executive vice president, Corporate Affairs, PG&E Corporation, and chair of the board, the PG&E Corporation Foundation.

CRF began the Resilience Fund in 2021 to support restaurants recovering from economic impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic, which contributed to many restaurants closing their doors temporarily or permanently. PG&E and The PG&E Corporation Foundation have supported the program since its inception.

Resilience Fund applications will be open June 15 through June 30, 2024, and can be found at restaurantcare.org/resilience. Grants are open to all California-based restaurant owners and commercial caterers in PG&E's service area that have fewer than five locations and less than $3 million in annual revenue. Priority will be given to restaurants that have not previously received a grant; however, former recipients can also apply.

To date, the CRF has awarded 1,325 grants to independent restaurant owners across the state. Of the past recipient businesses, 66 percent are women owned and 77 percent minority owned.

Farmers' Markets are in full bloom everywhere

NORTH COAST GROWERS' ASSOCIATION

NORTH COAST — July is the start of summer bounty at the Farmers' Markets. With the opening of Old Town Farmers' Market on Tuesday, July 2; Willow Creek Farmers' Market on Thursday, July 11; and McKinleyville Farmers' Market on Thursday, July 18, the North Coast Growers Association (NCGA) is officially in full swing.

Folks on the West side of Eureka can look forward to the launch of the Old Town Farmers' Market on July 2. The market will run every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. from July 2 to Oct. 29. Returning to that market, the community can look forward to Humboldt Baking Company, Rain Frog Farm, Wilder Witch and Keki's the Home, which will offer tacos.

Los Bagels will joins us for the first time this year, for some excellent representation of the heart of Old Town. This market is a fantastic lunch destination for those who work nearby. Enjoy live music, fresh produce and fun artisan wares at the Gazebo every Tuesday through October.

The Willow Creek Farmers' Market will take place Thursdays, 4 to 7 p.m., at 72 The Terrace Ln. from July 11 to Aug. 29. The opening of the Willow Creek Market was rescheduled last month to encourage increased vendor participation. The location has also been updated. This year, the Willow Creek Farmers' Market will take place across from the Studio 299 Community Art Center alongside their Thursday Night Social Club, which includes music, games and food.

We are pleased to announce a new Willow Creek market manager, Audrey Henschell, a longtime Willow Creek resident and past local business owner. She has a strong vision for the Farmers' Market and a deep sense of the community values in Willow Creek.

facebook.com/willowcreek-farmersmarket

The McKinleyville Farmers' Market runs every Thursday from 3 to 6 p.m., July 18 through Oct. 31 at Eureka Natural Foods. NCGA and the McKinleyville Farmers' Market offer special thanks to Eureka Natural Foods for their continued support of the market.

McKinleyville Farmers' Market is a community-based experience rooted in local food access and celebration. We are excited to feature local oysters from North Bay Shellfish, as well as tasty treats from emerging small business Patches Pastries. Customers can look forward to community favorites like McIntosh Farm, Rain Frog Farm, Happy Hearts, Luna, and I & I Farms, as well as classic food vendors like Los Bagels, new to the market this year.

This year, the McKinleyville Farmers' Market is also under new management. Our wonderful Peacekeeper at the Arcata Plaza Market, Oscar Mollogon, will expand his work with NCGA to include the management of the McKinleyville Market. His passions include transformative social justice work through mediation and sociocratic collaboration, local transportation reform and up-and-coming agricultural development in Humboldt County. We are excited to see how Oscar's experience and talents will translate into a thriving McKinleyville Farmers' Market.

Our other Farmers' Markets have been busy and bustling with spring energy. In Fortuna, with luscious displays of veggies and strawberries, beautiful weather, delicious food and great local music, the Farmers' Market has been off to a fantastic start this year. Customer favorites, including Shakefork Community Farm, Blue Dog Farmstead, Bailey's E-Bread, Foggy Bottoms Boys, I & I Farm, and Humboldt Tortilla Depot are there weekly to provide all of your grocery needs. From fresh fruits and vegetables and locally raised meats to eggs, milk, bread, honey and so much more, come let the Fortuna Farmers' Market be your one-stop shop for your weekly necessities. While you're there, make dinner a breeze by getting some tasty food from one of the many hot food vendors.

The Arcata Plaza Farmers' Market is as vibrant as ever, and we are getting so much positive feedback about the full Plaza street closure. Customers and vendors alike tell us that the market feels so much safer to walk around. One woman even asked, "What took so long!?" We agree! Come out to our community's favorite farmers' market to enjoy live music, fresh produce and a fun, family-friendly environment.

Wagons are available for checkout at the market info booth if customers have a larger farmers' market haul to get to their vehicle. Find us at the market info booth to check them out. See you at the farmers' market, every Saturday, year round!

Henderson Center Farmers' Market launched at the beginning of June. We welcomed new vendors like Humboldt Healing Harvest, Humboldt Spice Company, Belview Farm and Il Forni di Fulvio. Community favorites like Earth-N-Hands, Forest Lakes Nursery, Wilder Natural, Palmer Creek Farm, Bee's Strawberries, Foggy Bottoms Boys, Freshwater Family Farm, Humboldt Hot Dogs, Fritanga Nica, Jams & Jellies were also there, with others like Rain Frog Farm, Neukom Family Farm, Happy Hearts and Trident Lightning returning later in the season when more produce gets going.

Stirring tales of salvation, deterioration, dysfunction and perfection

A prompt, professional and kind response

We live down a single-lane driveway in Westhaven. This past Tuesday afternoon at we noticed we had a tree down and that it was resting on our power line and one of our lines was down. We called 911 and Westhaven Volunteer Fire Department (WFD) and Cal Fire got here very quickly. PG&E had also been dispatched, and they arrived pretty quickly too.

When PG&E came, they disconnected the lines and Westhaven Fire stayed in case they were needed, luckily the lines fell on very green trees so there was just a little smoke and sparks. Soon after a tree crew from Wright's Tree Service came to clean up the Alder. We figured we would get our service back maybe the next day. We went inside and started to make dinner and play games by lantern light.

When we went out to lock up, we were surprised to see the tree crew was still working and the PG&E crew was there ready to restore our electricity. Then our power came back at 9:30 p.m., just five hours after we reported it!

We felt so fortunate; we are just one house down a small country lane. All of the crews were super professional and kind.

We would like to express our gratitude for Cal Fire, PG&E, Wright's Tree Service and most of all the volunteers on the Westhaven Fire Department. This is the third time WFD has come out here to help us in the 12 years we have lived here.

One time it was because someone had released one of those candlelight lanterns on the beach and it crashed into the hillside above us and caused a fire (please do not use those!). The other was another downed tree that fell on a line. In every instance Westhaven Volunteer Department was here very promptly to help.

Please consider going to the Westhaven Blackberry Festival this summer on Sunday July 28 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sixth Ave. in Westhaven It's a wonderful event that helps support the Westhaven Volunteer Fire department.

Enjoy handmade pies, lots of amazing food, drinks, booths, great bands and a neighborhood wide yard sale; it has something for everyone! Hope to see you there!

Sincerely,
Tami and Steen Trump

Division and disunity

On Sept. 17, 1796 President George Washington delivered his presidential farewell address. In his farewell he addressed one of his greatest fears: the rise of political parties, but it was really about disunity.

He said "the spirit of party" aggravates sectional tensions in the country and encourages the rule of minorities and of dangerous demagogues. By this he meant "a small but artful, enterprising minority" of politicians whose ambitions and ploys can be fatal to the union. The antidote to such factionalism, he said, is a spiritual union that will transcend party, state or section.

With regards to the upcoming presidential election how do you ascertain what party is engaging in harmful behavior? One way to tell would be to determine which party is spreading disunity. Washington was also responding to the fact that there was a divided election coming ahead between Jefferson and Adams. There was hope though. He maintained his neutrality, saying only that the wisdom and the strength of republican government (with a small r) would be confirmed at the ballot box.

And in the case of Adams and Jefferson, even though they were so divided, after their presidential terms, first Adams and then Jefferson, they became close friends corresponding till the ends of their days, both dying on July 4, 1926 within several hours of each other.

I guess times were different then.

❖ LETTERS

For it is written

So now the Christian Taliban wants America to live by God's 10 Commandments. Breaking all of those 10 rules are Christian hobbies.

It's no wonder, though they are hidden in the Book of Exodus between a lot of rules that God has for us. So just to be a brat, I have listed them here so that you can check yourself.

- 20.3 Have no other gods before me
- 20.4 Do not worship idols
- 20.7 Do not take the Lord's name in vain
- 20.8 Keep the sabbath holy: no work will be performed, only prayers and rituals
- 20.12 Honor your parents
- 20.13 No murder
- 20.14 No adultery
- 20.15 No stealing
- 20.16 do not bear fall witness against your neighbor
- 20.17 Do not covet anything belonging to your neighbor.

There are more words to each one as you will see when you look them up in your Bible to check what I said.

Please notice that none of the issues in our political/religious culture war are on God's list of issues to care about. Because of false prophets.

They are also found in Deuteronomy 5.6-5.21.

A Utopian vision

Greetings Brothers and Sisters. Maureen here, compelled to describe some of my version of Utopia on this page.

In my version of Utopia there is harmony throughout the lands. We feel safe and secure. No one is confused about what it means to be a human being.

We have no barriers to love.

We know that we are deeply connected to all of life. We rejoice in these connections.

All is sacred.

We have no words for harm doing in our languages. No words such as starvation, or torture, or hate.

Our words and sounds speak of the delight we feel in being alive and an integral part of the natural world.

We have no rulers.

We live in the villages that it takes to raise a child. Our structures are made of hemp - or the like. We have communal indoor and outdoor kitchens.

If a decision has to be made we go into Council around the primal flames. We make our decisions based on how they might affect seven generations hence.

In each other we trust.

In my version of Utopia we are living in gardens. Gardens holding the food we eat and the flowers, plants and trees we continue to delight in.

Our delight transports us to Source.

Since we feel no need to be transported anywhere else we have no noisy, stinky machines polluting our environment.

No one ever hurries. Time does not exist. We are at ease. We have no tension in our minds or bodies. We always feel safe and at home.

There is no word for enemy in our languages.

In my version of Utopia we know what to do. We tend to ourselves, each other, our gardens, and whatever else might need our attention.

Every day we enjoy singing, dancing, creating and playing together. Some of us might enjoy climbing a tree to perch for awhile. Others might spend time swimming in nearby waters.

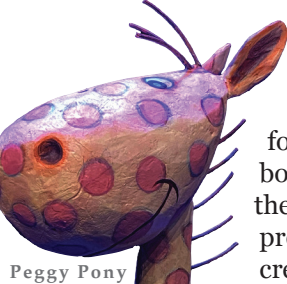

So. You have read a thumbnail sketch of the environment I would like to be sharing with you.

Care to join me?

Art and more awaits at The Sanctuary

For this week's edition of All Things Art I decided to focus on a space dedicated to building community through art and education. I spoke with Katie Belknap, one of the founding members of The Sanctuary, a community arts center in Arcata.

Peggy Pony

❖ ALL THINGS ART
Mario Orozco

The Sanctuary was founded in 2013 by neighbors with the goal of turning the space into a place that preserves the neighborhood's creativity. It is now a community space that allows people access to various artistic tools.

"We're artists and liked the atmosphere at HSU where you have people making in space together," Belknap said. "So we wanted to have a place where you can get together and use a gigantic press for example, but you don't have to own the press and you can bounce ideas off of each other."

The Sanctuary is available to people with various different ideas. It is a space dedicated to fostering growth through artful living while encouraging community members to get to know each other and teach each other.

"It's really about community and sharing ideas and art and exposing people to alternative things in the arts," Belknap said. "A gathering space where people can come in with an idea about an art project or event they want to do and we can help manifest that."

Community engagement is another important aspect of The Sanctuary. They support the students of the community through having College Corps interns from the university, and through their Donation Dash which assists students moving out of the dorms.

The Sanctuary also holds various tools to help artists work on projects and hone their artistic skills.

"We have sewing, print making, small metals, ceramics, light woodworking, painting, drawing and collage supplies," Belknap said. "We have a monthly art night if people have a project they want to work on they can contact us and we can set up a time for them to come and use whatever tools they need."

Community members can get involved and help support The Sanctuary in a few different ways. Volunteers can sign up on their website sanctuaryarcata.org, at one of their music shows and events or by speaking with Belknap at one of their regular activities.

"People can support by just telling their friends about it," Belknap said. "Come over and come to art night or sewing night or Taco Tuesday or any of the events."

Moving forward Belknap hopes that the space will become more utilized with regular programming and events. The Sanctuary exists as a place for the people of Humboldt County to learn and grow together as artists. The best way to support them is to make use of their space and spread the word.

"We have Taco Tuesday where we make the tortillas and everybody brings a filling, so I sometimes think of it as a fractal," Belknap said. "We make the space and hope that everyone from the community brings a filling as in something to happen in the space."

The Sanctuary is located at 1301 J St. and you can sign up for their monthly newspaper on their website.

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: GREGORY JOHN LAKIN
A Petition for Probate has been filed by JEREMY SCOTT LAKIN in the Superior Court of California, County of HUMBOLDT.

The Petition for Probate requests that: JEREMY SCOTT LAKIN be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests the decedents will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take any actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows:

Date: JULY 18, 2024
Time: 1:31 PM
Dept.: 4

Address of court: Superior Court of California, County of Humboldt, 825 Fifth Street, Eureka, CA, 95501.

COURT MAY BE CLOSED TO THE PUBLIC DUE TO THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC. PLEASE VISIT <https://www.humboldt.courts.ca.gov> FOR INFORMATION ON HOW TO PARTICIPATE IN AN ONLINE VIDEO HEARING.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

All about the Arcata Marsh's tinier residents

FRIENDS OF THE ARCATA MARSH – Join Pete Haggard on Wednesday, July 3 to hear about the smaller wildlife of the Arcata Marsh: insects, amphibians and reptiles. The presentation by Pete – co-author with his wife Judy of the field guide, Insects of the Pacific Northwest – is part of the First Wednesday Lecture Series sponsored by Friends of the Arcata Marsh. This one-hour talk will be held at the Arcata Marsh Interpretive Center starting at 7 p.m., followed by a Q&A session. This talk will encourage you to look down when walking at the Marsh, rather than looking skyward for birds. You will be introduced to the natural histories of select bugs, frogs, salamanders, snakes and lizards that depend on the Arcata Marsh for survival, while also serving as food for other resident wildlife. Pete, who is retired from the Humboldt County Agriculture Commissioner's Office, is garden chair for the local chapter of the California Native Plant Society. He teaches gardening classes for Cal Poly's Extended Education, as well as for the University of California's Master Gardener and Master Food Preserver Programs. The presentation will be simulcast via Zoom at the following link humboldtstate.zoom.us/j/87258590036?pwd=Wc6YGR1XUGHjpt5KLADWavGMSTopEa.1 and uploaded afterward to the FOAM YouTube channel. For more information, contact the Interpretive Center at (707) 826-2359.
